Dr. Harry E. Good

1988 Highlander chosen

Dr. Harry E. Good has been named the 1988 Highlander of the Year. The award was made Wednesday evening at the annual meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, held at Wig-a-Mog Inn.

The introduction of this year's recipient of the annual award was made by Dysart et al Reeve Murray Fearrey. He told the audience Dr. Good had been chosen for the award because of his contribution as a medical practitioner and, "for giving generously of himself, his talents and for sharing his gains with the community."

Among the numerous achievements cited in presenting the award, was Dr. Good's ongoing concern for the physical and emotional well-being of the citizens of the community. "He has been a constant supporter of the Haliburton Hospital and provided financial and moral support for the new addition," Fearrey said. "For 30 years he has been available night and day for medical, emotional or any other help he can give."

Glass shares water concerns

Candidates face off

Free trade may be the dominant issue on a national level in this federal election campaign, but when the local candidates visit Haliburton County there is no escaping the fact that people want answers to the water levels problem.

Three of the candidates who hope to replace Bill Scott as the Victoria - Haliburton Member of Parliament fielded a variety of questions from area media representatives during a debate at the Dysart Community Centre last Wednesday evening. But it was plain to see by the reaction of the audience that the main reason they had come out that night was to hear what the candidates are going to do to solve the problem of fluctuating water levels in Haliburton's lakes.

The small audience paid passive attention as candidates Bruce Glass (Liberal), Cathy Vainio (NDP) and Archie Dobbins (Commonwealth of Canada) addressed the issues of taxes, free trade and abortion. But when the question of dealing with water levels was put to the candidates, there was a quick shuffling of chairs as people sat forward to listen.

Glass, who is representing the Liberals in his second election run, proved to be well versed on this issue. Vainio admitted a lack of understanding and Dobbins blamed it on the new computers used in the Trent-Severn Waterway.

"I'd be prepared to go to bat for you"

If elected, Glass promises to provide the necessary representation in Ottawa that has been lacking in recent years. "As your representative, I'd be prepared to go to bat for you," he said. The problem has existed for decades; "we can't keep putting it off with studies."

There have been at least three studies carried out on the problems with water levels in area lakes since the early 1960's, but the political will to finally solve the troubles has been missing. The extremely hot and dry summers of the past two years caused lake levels to plummet to new lows, while public concern has skyrocketed.

The problem, as outlined by Glass is two-fold. There is a shortage of reservoir capacity to offset flooding and drought in the top end of the Trent-Severn Waterway and there is a pollution problem which demands continuous flushing at Peterborough.

Increasing the reservoir capacity in Haliburton will be a costly venture, but Glass says the government will "have to bite the bullet and spend the money."

The problem in the lower part of the waterway is more complex. Unless strong flows are maintained, Rice Lake "will become a cess pool" from the discharges from Peterborough's sewage treatment plants. The solution here will take the co-operation of the province and the City of Peterborough to upgrade its sewage plant. He noted that the federal Liberals have promised $5-billion will be set aside for this sort

Ride stays intact

The possibility of splitting next summer's Ontario Ride For Sight into two groups has been ruled out and Minden is once again being given the option of hosting the massive motorcycle extravaganza.

Rick Start, who is the national co-ordinator for the Ride, told Anson, Hindon and Minden council that he believes the Ontario chapter of this fund-raising event has "topped out" in terms of the number of people who will be participating. There were 4,400 motorcycles involved in the Ride last summer and Start is not predicting a great deal of growth for the coming

Start, along with the provincial chairman Sid Sollier and Gerry German, attended a recent council meeting to provide an update on the group's activities and plans for the coming year. The next Ride will mark the 10th anniversary of this event, which is designed to raise money for research into a cure for Retinitis Pigmentosa.

With the municipal election just around the corner, council was not able to provide confirmation that the municipality would accept the Ride back for another year. Council members felt this decision should be made by those who are elected on November 14.

The tentative date for next year's Ride is the weekend of June 10 and 11. Although the number of participants is expected to stay about the same, organizers will be boosting the amount of promotion for the event and have set a fundraising target of $1-million for Ontario alone. Last year, the Ontario Ride raised about $700,000.

Another reason the Ride is not being split is the fact that this is the 10th anniversary and they want to make sure it is a success. Start told council that participants enjoy coming to Minden because they know the fun they are going to have and the warm welcome from the community.

"It takes towns like this to make this thing a success right across the country," Start said. He also noted Elections are coming our way; the most important fact is that we live in a country where we receive a chance to choose our candidate. We fought to keep this right of choice in World Wars and down the years. So be sure and vote. At times we have read that a very small majority vote, this time, let's make those numbers better.

Joan and Joe Burton and Sonya and Larry Harrison visited with Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Sedgwick and helped him celebrate his birthday. Sonya and Larry also had a brief time with his parents, Hilda and Stuart Harrison.

* * *

Club 35 Euchre saw winners on October 31 being: 50 - 50 - Bill Kleinschmidt, most lone hands - Marion Irwin, high lady - Marg Gartley, high man - Jim Skinner, and others - Eleanor Kleinschmidt, Don Gartley and Len Trodd. Our evening was made most enjoyable by two visitors from outer-space "Sally" and "Joe", who dropped in to play cards with us. Due to the election November 14th, the euchre will be held on Tuesday, November 15th at 8 p.m.

Maybe it's time you jumped into something more demanding than a car pool.

Sincere sympathy goes to the families and friends of the late Ivor Davies (Haliburton), Harold Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Sinc NESBITT X

PLATFORM

I would like to commend all the men and women who are offering their time and talents, to work for the council and school board of this community.

I have no quarrel or axe to grind with Sinc Nesbitt or anyone ... we probably only see things from a different age perspective and priorities.

I humbly come before you to offer a choice ... the choice of who you want as your next Reeve.

It is very easy to be caught up in issues that are affecting a few people, but it is necessary to look for the common good of all.

It is my hope that I can offer a fresh approach and management skills to correlate the many differing opinions that abound, and get a consensus of goals and objectives collectively, so that the next council has a degree of direction and a course to follow.

I consider myself a deep-thinking optimist ... I look at an overview of the task at hand, then proceed to find solutions from every possible source. Some of the challenges that face the next council and councils into the next decade, are getting more and more complicated.

The visions and opinions I seek are not for personal gain or gratification. The decisions of council that are made, we can only hope are for the good of all in our community. I have been asked several times "how would you lead the next council?"

My answer is simple. It is not what I can do, but how can we, the council, help you. By having an open door policy and supplying information and help upon request. By keeping the media informed of what is happening and welcoming their comments. But firstly, by working with the administration and council to set an agenda right at the beginning of the new term.

From the latest figures available, Anson, Hindon and Minden has grown by 25% in the past fifteen years. This is truly phenomenal when you consider the Provincial average is only 4.4%.

As I observe what is happening in our cities to the south, the escalating property prices, it is only too evident that a portion of those residents and entrepreneurs will migrate to the Highlands, supplying Minden with talented individuals who will contribute and create an economical base for the community.

This fortifies my opinion that we should get our Planning Document By-Law 88-26, enacted into law, to provide a frame work and plan to work with.

For the safety and protection of our citizens in the north and west quadrants of Minden, I feel a second bridge over the Gull River should be built in the near future.

With the addition of 32 more senior housing units, I feel a drop-in centre and swimming pool should be given serious consideration as we develop our park project south-east of the community centre.

The focus for affordable housing must start at the municipal level in the development of lots and buildings.

It is my opinion that the commercial development has always led the way of the future, and councils that act responsibly in harmony with this, create jobs and growth sensibly.

Personally, I am not a financial wizard, but I do know that budgeting is very important. Operating from a zero budget keeps a business or municipality in focus. Manageable debt is one thing, while deficits take a lot of money out of the pockets of ratepayers.

RESUME

For those of you who don't know me, I humbly submit a brief resume.

My wife Gloria and I have been married for thirty-nine years. We were blessed with eight children, and presently have seventeen grandchildren. We had to get our formal education and jobs mostly in the Toronto area. Finally we took our chances and settled in Muskoka for twenty-one years, and for the past three years have been semi-retired, making our home and head office in Minden. I have a very diversified professional and business career, while constantly seeking knowledge and challenges to grow.

I was elected to serve on the Gravenhurst council for two terms, and also served one term as a councillor on the District Of Muskoka Council. During my tenure, I served on all committees of council ... public works, administration and finance, planning and development, and health and welfare.

After moving to Minden, our former clerk asked me to serve on Anson, Hindon and Minden's Planning Advisory Board, Parks and Recreation, and since this past January I have chaired the newly created Parks Board. I have been involved with what's happening in Anson, Hindon and Minden.

As a Rotarian, I am dedicated to serve our community. As a person, I am open and easy to talk to, and not afraid to make decisions.

My whole family is very grateful to this community, and feel an obligation to give back of our time, talents and experience if called upon. If it be the will of the electorate, I will work hard to lead the next council to the best of my ability for the betterment of all our residents.

Thank you.

editorial

With a presidential election underway in the U.S. and a federal election underway here, it is hard to concentrate on the election that will have the greatest effect on future progress, or lack of it, in our townships.

In just seven days, residents of Ontario will choose who will sit on the local councils and school boards. Here in Haliburton County, a good deal of the choice has already been suspended with various candidates running uncontested for office. It is vital that we all have a say in who will be representing us for the next three years by voting on Nov. 14 or at the advance polls.

It is surprising that interest in local government elections is traditionally very low. This year, there is concern that voter participation will drop off even further, since our attention is split between this and the federal election.

There are plenty of new challenges and issues facing the people who are elected to represent us on the school board and local councils for the next three years. For the school board the leading issue is that of expanding the space in all of our overcrowded schools. On a county level, the outstanding issue is that of better waste control.

We have the opportunity to decide who is best equipped to confront these challenges.

Ensure that your voice is heard. Get out and vote.

Searching for Jeff Craig

This column can be considered to be an All Points Bulletin. Its message is simple. Boiled down to five essential words it would read:

JEFF CRAIG, COME HOME IMMEDIATELY.

Back when life was simple, Jeff lived just down the street from me. He's a cheerful, good-looking young guy in his mid-twenties going through the gypsy stage of his journalism career, flitting from newspaper to newspaper - writing a column here, covering city hall there, taking over the duties of editor somewhere else, then packing up his notepads and his Roget's Thesaurus and moving on to some other more attractive newspaper just over the ink-smudged rainbow. Last I heard he was deep in the wilds of northeastern Ontario, churning out copy for the Temiskaming Tribune or the Cobalt Chronicle-Journal or maybe it

black 'n white

by Arthur Black

was the Porcupine Times Picayune.

Doesn't matter. I tell you all that by way of background, in case you spot the guy on the street. The reason Jeff Craig must be apprehended and returned to my neighbourhood immediately is because Jeff Craig is one other thing.

A computer genius.

More to the point, he's the computer genius who convinced me that life would be transformed and my writing revived if only I bought a Tandy-1000-EX-Floppy-Disc-640-Megabyte-PC-with-Accessory-

Hard-Disc-Drive-and-RGB Color Monitor CM-5.

Looking back now, I realize I didn't truly need the aforementioned. I was reasonably happy punching out my column on the old dented Olympia portable typewriter I'd been hunched over for years. True, the space bar seems to be suffering from a touch of bursitis and I couldn't write any sentences that called for a capital "Q", but we were like an old married couple, my Olympia and me - well past the ecstasies of the honeymoon, but comfortable with each other.

Comfortable until Jeff Craig came along, anyway.

Jeff is an exceedingly polite chap, but I'm certain I saw the flicker of a smirk cross his face when he discovered I still worked on a typewriter. He said nothing.

What will be left for your grandchildren?

Editor:

The intent of this letter is to ask senior citizens in this riding, to stop and "think carefully" before they cast their votes.

Let me remind you that the first order of business for the government (Finance Minister Michael Wilson) was to attempt to deindex our government pensions. That shows how much respect this government has for senior citizens.

How about the new sales tax with increases of up to 30 per cent if you are in the $25,000 income bracket, as compared to 1984?

How about income taxes, with approximately $115,000 income you would save approximately $3,800. But with an income of less than $6,000 you would save approximately $90. Which bracket are you in?

How about the election

"goodies" give-aways? Example - $8-million to a race track in Nova Scotia.

How about the Meech Lake Accord, making Quebec a "distinct society" in a one-society country?

What will free trade do to our social benefits - OHIP etc. - or our water supply and our energy?

What will be left for your grandchildren?

In closing let me mention the "pork barrelling" and the freeloading super rich who pay no taxes at all.

My fellow citizens, I am not telling you how to vote only to remember what some of us voted for in '84.

It's your decision. Just be sure you vote.

Frank LeMaitre,
Lutterworth Estates,
R.R. 1, Minden.

P.S. Personally I wish there was an addition to the ballot which would read "none of the above" so I could vote honestly.

Editor:

I would like to express to the voters of Haliburton County the importance of exercising their franchise to vote. Responsible government depends upon each and every person taking an active interest in current issues. It is commendable to see the coverage each of the local papers is giving to each of the municipal candidates. These profiles help voters familiarise themselves with the candidates' thoughts on the various issues.

As the Political Action Representative of the Women Teachers' Association of Haliburton, I would like to thank you for your excellent coverage of this upcoming municipal election and your reminders to the public of the importance of taking the time to vote.

ing, merely showed me his state of the art personal computer. It was like handing the ignition keys of a Lamborghini to a guy who'd been driving a ten year old Volkswagen bug. I was hooked. Within hours I was negotiating a second mortgage on the house and selling my firstborn into slavery in order to arrange financing on my very own personal computer.

Jeff Craig supervised the buying of the gray plastic modules that were my keyboard, my monitor, my disc drive and my printer. Jeff Craig came home with me, hooked up all the wires and thinggummees to the proper doohickies and whatchamacallits. Jeff Craig taught me important PC words like "format", "cursor" and "MS-DOS".

Then Jeff Craig moved away.

To be honest, I was having such fun with my new toy that I scarcely noticed he was gone for the first few days.

Then my computer turned on me.

It was subtle at first. Curt little messages like NOT A VALID FILE crept onto my screen. Soon it was issuing orders in gibberish like ENTER Y TO DOWNLOAD FONTS, N TO SKIP, ESC TO CANCEL and delivering doomladen ultimatums like CANNOT SAVE FILE or LIST IS EMPTY.

My local computer store was no help. They speak only Egyptian there. "Why didn't you punch in the A-copyA:/B command?" they ask me disgustedly.

My computer is in full mutiny now. It lets me type out anything I want on the screen, then eats it right before my eyes. Does anybody else have a computer that snickers? Mine does. Come home Jeff Craig, and make it behave again.

I had to use my backup system to get this column out. It's a cordless, laptop manual word processor with infinite megabyte capacity that comes with its own data obliterater on the opposite end of the unit.

I think we used to call them pencils.

Returning to a changed country

War, of course, is a horrible thing - countries are destroyed, along with the people who live in them. No one knows this better than war veterans, and so no one was happier when the wars ended than the thousands of Canadians who fought in them.

But what kind of country did they return home to? It is one of the ironies of the Second World War that the men and women who came home found that they had transformed their country, even though they had been away from it.

Consider some of the things that had happened while they were serving our seas. Canada had gone to war as a producer of raw materials and agricultural goods, and she ended it as one of the world's great manufacturing nations. She had started the war as a largely rural country and by its end urbanization had made large strides. Her cities had mushroomed.

Other things had happened. When Japan overran the rubber plantations of Asia, Canada promised to produce synthetic rubber. By war's end, 10 plants were in operation and Canadians were turning out 15 kinds of rubber. It was the same kind of story for the vehicle manufacturing industry and so many other things.

For Canada's veterans, the return home must have made them feel a bit like Rip Van Winkle did after his long sleep: It was still the same country, but it had been transformed.

But even if there was some apprehension about the kind of country they would be returning home to, it couldn't hide the joy they felt when the war in Europe ended. Canadians celebrated from coast to coast and in Europe, but perhaps one soldier from British Columbia's Westminster Regiment put it best. He was shaving on VE Day when he happened to look at his image in the mirror. "Boy", he exclaimed, "am I glad to see you."

The changes that the veterans returned home to didn't stop them - or Canadians - from remembering the country's 114,000 war dead. And that is one thing that hasn't changed in the 43 years since the war ended. The Legion's Poppy Campaign is just as successful now as it was in 1945. Canadians still remember.

Legion services will honour the fallen

Four ceremonies will be held this November 11 to mark Remembrance Day in the Haliburton Highlands. The ceremonies have been organized by branches of the Royal Canadian Legion in memory of those who gave their lives in conflict for this country. In addition to the November 11 parades, the Minden Branch of the Legion will be holding an additional service Sunday, November 13.

Residents are invited to take part in any of the following Remembrance Day observances in the Highlands.

Branch 636, Minden

Remembrance Day ceremonies will include a parade from Archie Stouffer Elementary School starting at 10:30 a.m. to the County Cairn at the Library Cultural Centre. 300 students from the school will be taking part in the parade, along with the Legion colour party. A memorial service will be held at the Cairn at 11 a.m.

The branch will be holding a second parade on Sunday, November 13. The parade will form at the park next to the municipal office, and march through town to the Cairn starting at 3 p.m. Seven area branches will be represented in this parade, including colour parties and the Pipe Band from the Haliburton Branch. The Legion Zone Commander will also be in attendance. Following the ceremony at the Cairn, the group will parade back to the municipal office. Participants will be invited back to the Minden Legion Hall for fellowship following the parade.

Branch 129, Haliburton

The ceremonies in Haliburton will begin at 10 a.m. on November 11 with a memorial service at the Legion Hall. At 10:45 the parade will leave the hall for the march to the village cenotaph for wreath laying ceremonies. Following the service, participants are invited back to the Legion Hall for an afternoon of fellowship. An evening supper is planned for 6:30 p.m. the same day.

Branch 441, Kinmount

The parade to the cenotaph in Kinmount will be formed at the Legion Hall and leave at approximately 10:45 a.m. Students from the community school will be included in the service, along with federal and municipal dignitaries. The service at the cenotaph will be conducted by Rev. Dawn Gilby. Following the ceremonies, participants are invited to return to the Legion Hall for a luncheon and fellowship.

Branch 624, Wilberforce

Those taking part in the Wilberforce Remembrance Day parade are asked to gather at the community's firehall prior to 10:45 a.m. The parade will leave shortly after 11 o'clock for the march to the cenotaph where the service will be held. Following the ceremonies, lunch will be served at the Legion hall with an opportunity for fellowship. Later in the evening, a turkey roll will be held at the hall.

Who do we remember?

Hoping the telegraph boy doesn't stop

As we watch the Remembrance Day ceremonies each year, our attention focuses on war veterans. They, after all, are the ones who went to war and suffered through the horrors of combat. But they weren't the only Canadians to suffer, for war has no respect for age or sex.

The horror that Canadians faced at home was of a different kind, the kind that made people watch their front gate and hope that the telegraph boy wouldn't show up with a telegram from the Department of National Defence reporting that a husband or a son had been killed. During the Second World War, more than 40,000 such telegrams arrived in Canadian homes. Twenty years, earlier, during the First World War, more than 60,000 of these telegrams were sent.

But concerns and worries about loved ones weren't the only hardships faced by the people who stayed at home when Canada went to war. Some probably haven't heard of rationing, but it was very well known during the war. Canada had a small population when the Second World War started, about half of what it is today, and most of our factories were busy producing the arms and ammunition and ships our Armed Forces needed. That meant there weren't enough factories to make the foods, the cars and the other goods you are accustomed to.

Because goods were scarce, the government decided that the only way to ensure that people got their fair share was to ration them. Canadians were given coupons that allowed them to buy a certain amount of butter, gasoline and food each week. Without the coupons, prices would have risen drastically, but rationing also meant that many of the things that had been taken for granted, like Sunday drives and large meals, were no longer possible. There were more serious inconveniences too, because there could be problems getting to work, or to a doctor's appointment.

When the war finally ended in 1945, there were huge celebrations in Toronto, Winnipeg, and other cities. Why were people so happy? Mainly, of course, because peace meant no more long casualty lists and no more sad telegrams. But Canadians were also happy because they knew that their lives could once more return to normal, and that the sacrifices of the war years were behind them. The poppies that Canadians wear every year during The Royal Canadian Legion's Poppy Campaign are one way of showing that these sacrifices haven't been forgotten.

Breakthrough in research brings new hope to Ride

that the RP Eye Research Foundation recently made a breakthrough in their search for a cure for this disease which causes blindness.

The money raised through the Rides "is actually starting to show some kick-back," said Start. There is a good deal of optimism that researchers may soon have a way of reversing the genetic problem that causes RP.

With this in mind, the Ride co-ordinators will be boosting the amount of promotion for the Rides all across Canada. As a side benefit, the Village of Minden will also be promoted province-wide.

For the past two years, the Ontario Provincial Police "Golden Helmets" motorcycle team's demonstration of precision riding on Minden's Main Street has been one of the highlights of the event. Start said the Golden Helmet riders have expressed an interest in coming back. And, as an added attraction, Start said he is hoping to have the OPP Pipe Band brought to Minden as well.

Because no firm commitment from the municipality can be made until after the municipal elections, the Ride group will be attending another meeting in early December.

As Fearrey explained, Dr. Good came to Haliburton in 1954 after being introduced to the community by Bill Scott. He opened a family practice which quickly expanded, including the addition of his own four children to the community. In 1971, he opened the Good Medical Centre in Haliburton Village and used his influence to attract young doctors, including one of his sons, to join him in the practice. The Reeve said the presence of the medical centre provided an incentive for community growth and expansion.

In addition to his involvement as a doctor in the growth of the area, the gathering was told that Dr. Good was a member and past president of the Rotary Club of Haliburton, member of the Royal Canadian Legion, the Masonic Lodge, a Shriner, Chamber of Commerce and a regular supporter of the arts.

"Dr. Good is an entrepreneur, is industrious and unselfishly contributes to the community that has appreciated him," Fearrey concluded.

Better representation

of upgrading.

Vainio, who gave up her seat on the Victoria County Board of Education to represent the New Democrats in this election, admitted she does not yet have a firm understanding of this complex situation. She wondered if it all stems from the dry weather of the past two summers or if there is a problem with the technology used by the waterway.

Vainio invited anyone to "enlighten" her as to what is causing the concern here. She said she would make an effort to find out what is causing the concern in Haliburton and would voice those concerns in Ottawa if elected.

Dobbins, who lives in the Highlands, says the technology that the Trent-Severn has adopted to improve water management has only served to make things worse. The computerized controls have led to premature lowering of the lakes, he said.

"The Party of the Commonwealth of Canada probably will never have a say on this," Dobbins admitted. "But we do." He said co-operation and improved monitoring of the situation are the keys to a solution.

The Candidates, Dysart

Brian Watts Councillor Ward 4

Brian Watts, (owner of Rip's Sleepy Hollow) is running for his first term as Councillor in Ward 4 Guilford, and looks forward to serving the people of Guilford.

For the past three years he has served as a director on the Chamber of Commerce and the HCSA and feels through these boards that he knows many of the concerns of the people of the municipality. With the many loyal customers at his campground and restaurant he can discuss the many concerns they may have about their own neighbourhood.

One of the many concerns that Brian talks about is our environment and suggest that this should be one priority that all individuals should face and do their share to ensure a safe and clean environment.

Brian suggests that communications between him and the people of Ward 4 is most important and with the campground and restaurant, they can drop in and feel free to discuss the needs of Ward 4. With Brian's involvement in the HCSA and the Chamber, Guilford now is on winter and snowmobile maps that go out to approximately 50,000 people, and, as Brian suggests, this now shows everyone where Guilford is and what we have to offer.

Brian feels that as a director of the Chamber he has a better prospective of the area and this can only be of benefit to him and the people of Ward 4.

Brian's involvement in the West Guilford Community Centre, calling bingos, helping with the Canada Day celebrations and many other activities, shows he cares for his community and the people that live there. Brian has many times suggested that you live in a community and take from it, you should be prepared to give something back. Brian looks forward to helping everyone in Ward 4 and feels he has the experience to be successful to make it a better place to live.

Another good year

The Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce has accomplished a great deal during the past year, the manager of the local business organization, Shirley Rapson, told the annual meeting Wednesday night. Noting it was the Chamber's job to put the Highlands "on the map", she cited a number of successful ventures in the past twelve months which have succeeded in accomplishing just that.

Pointing out that tourism dollars are vital to all sectors of the local economy, she said the Chamber has actively promoted the area through attendance at numerous trade shows, by sponsoring the publication of 100,000 lure brochures and 30,000 winter maps, as well as the operation of the welcome centre in Minden. The manager told the meeting that the organization has worked closely with regional tourist bodies in the county and other organizations to promote this area as a desirable destination for visitors.

Referring to membership fees and the annual grant of $60,000 from the county, Rapson told the meeting, "We are doing well with the funds we have available, but with additional financial support, from members and the county we can do more."

The Manager made mention of the addition of the provincial motor vehicle licence bureau to the Chamber's operations at its office in Minden. After having passed its first year of operation, she said the provincial audit team had given the office a 99.9% accuracy rating, a particularly high mark considering it is a new office. She said a great deal of the responsibility for the success of the licence bureau and the operation of the office must be given to staff members Cindy Rodley and Marilyn Gibbon.

Her optimistic report on the Chamber's activities were reflected in good news from the organization's auditors. Roger Dart of Dawson Gray and Dart, reported that two years ago the Chamber had a $30,000 deficit and now the Chamber was operating without a loss. The auditor attributed the change to conscientious management by the board of directors and the manager.

Following a number of reports the Chamber elected its new board of directors for the coming year. Chosen from the 14 nominated were the following 12: John Mateer of Hart Lodge, last year's president; Al Mayo of Case Real Estate; Marj Kennedy of Silver Eagle Resort; Brian Watts of Rip's Sleepy Hollow; Hadden Gillespie of Lengillinn Bed and Breakfast; Elgin Stouffer of Bowes and Cocks Real Estate; Chris Bishop of Sir Sam's Ski Area; Ray Moore of Westside Jug

City; Bill Burden of West Guilford Shopping Centre; Lyn Stevens of Red Umbrella Inn; Ann Axler of Town and Country Travel Consultants; and Dave Stevens of Beaverbrook Golf Club.

Guest speaker

The evening closed with a humorous speech by former CFRB Radio personality John Spragge. He is now employed as a motivational speaker. His presentation was peppered with amusing anecdotes and stories.

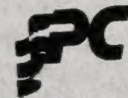

The thrust of his presentation, however, was that no matter what business an individual owns or is employed by, in the end, his business is pleasing people. He asked the group, "Have you hugged a customer today?"

Spragge noted that a survey undertaken in a Canadian drug store chain recently revealed that of the complaints received, 65% were related to service, while the remainder referred to merchandise or prices. He told the audience it has been shown that, while most businesses are prepared to deal with complaints from customers, only 4% of customers who are dissatisfied, voice a complaint to the business, the remainder voice their complaints to their friends. He reminded business owners, everyone on their staff is part of the 'selling team' and that through understanding and a co-operative effort, many of the complaints which leave a business with dissatisfied customers can be eliminated. "When you 'hug a customer', that's service," he told the audience. "When a customer hugs you, that's satisfaction."

Better supervision required at parks

Complaints about busloads of kids causing disturbances in the summer at Rotary Park in Minden have caused townships council to request improved supervision.

Joseph and Alex Kronick from Camp White Pine attended the October

27 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden Council to request permission to continue using the park for occasional outings. Their attendance at the meeting was in response to a letter from the municipality telling them not to use the park in the future.

According to Deputy Reeve Bern Berry, there have been complaints received that the large group of children have been disorderly when they came to the park. This sur-

Zoning bylaw will be passed

Implementation of a new zoning bylaw for Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships will likely come after the next elections regardless of who is chosen to fill the Reeve's chair.

At a recent all-candidates meeting at the Minden Community Centre both incumbent Reeve Sinc Nesbitt and challenger Ray Moore promised to have the bylaw enacted into law as soon as possible after the election. The main difference between the two candidates on this matter is that Moore says he will drop the flood plain zoning from the bylaw and deal with it later as a separate issue.

Although the municipality has an Official Plan for the passage of the accompanying zoning bylaw has been held up while council struggled with the Ministry of Natural Resources' demand for flood plain zoning. Council members were also faced with the possibility that they had personal interests in the matter and should not vote.

The fear of conflicting interests was dismissed recently when a provincial judge advised that all present members of council could vote on this. Because the next council meeting is not scheduled until November 17, the vote will not take place.

Nesbitt, who feels council has done a good job during the last term, promised more of the same in the future. "If you seek to elect me then I'll just take you three more years down the road the way you have come," he said.

Some of Nesbitt's goals include further development and upgrading of the Bobcaygeon Road, complete with sidewalks and street lighting, and continued emphasis on development of beaches and waterfront parks.

Moore, who is presently a member of the municipal parks board and the Planning Advisory Committee, says that growth this area has been experiencing will continue into the future, making council's role that much more complicated. This is why he is insisting that the zoning bylaw needs to be done as soon as possible.

Other matters that

Moore promises to work toward if elected are the construction of a second bridge over the Gull River in Minden, a drop-in swimming pool for the village.

prised Kronick, who said he has been bringing busloads of kids for a day at the park every year for about 15 years and has never heard a complaint.

Kronick told council that groups of up to 60 kids will visit the park six times each summer. He said they go for a swim, walk over to the Dairy for an ice cream, have some lunch at the nearby restaurants and then go back to the camp.

Camp White Pine has about 400 young campers at it each summer, coming from 14 different countries. Kronick assured council that he was unaware of any problems during their visits to Rotary Park and promised to keep closer watch if they are allowed to come back.

Council agreed that they could continue to use the park for these outings, but asked that the municipality be notified of the dates when they will take place.

Lively debate in Stanhope

Regardless of the outcome of the municipal election in Stanhope Township on November 14 residents will be represented on council by two veteran politicians and three newcomers to the political arena.

Harry Davis, who first sought office 16 years ago has been acclaimed for another three-year term as Reeve.

Ann Barker, a councillor for the past five years has moved up a notch having been acclaimed as Deputy Reeve.

The decision by the other members of the present council not to run again leaves the three councillor seats vacant.

Four residents of the township are running for the position: Murray Daniels, Fred Gardner, Elinor Harrison and Barb Nangle.

The race for the position of trustee on the Haliburton County Board of Education pits the 11-year veteran LeRoy Eager against Curtis Eastmure who is running for the first time.

About 100 voters had an opportunity to meet the political hopefuls at an all-candidates' meeting on Saturday evening at the Stanhope Firefighters Hall.

The meeting began with statements by the acclaimed council members. Looking to the upcoming term Reeve Davis noted the necessity of finding a new dump site next year and the need to implement a waste management study. Since consultants will be needed, he said, the study will be expensive. He concluded by expressing his personal ambition to build a new township office to provide more work and storage space.

Deputy-Reeve elect Ann Barker told the gathering the township must start immediately on a recycling program and that a new landfill site must be chosen. Through her position on County Council she will press for an open line for fire departments and other essential services in the County, she said.

Noting that lake levels are dangerously low she concluded by emphasizing the need for the City of Peterborough to improve its sewage system to reduce the drain on our lakes, noting taxpayers expect higher water levels in this region.

The candidates were then given an opportunity to present a brief outline of their background and to present their stand on various issues.

By and large the statements by the four candidates for council elaborated only slightly on the profiles carried in last week's edition of The Times.

The speeches by the two candidates for the Board of Education are also reflected by the profiles in today's paper. In addition, LeRoy Eager chose the forum to outline a number of accomplishments of the Board over the past three years, in part to explain the rise in the cost of education and the increase in local taxes.

Waste management, fluctuating water levels and education costs were the main themes of the opening remarks and dominated the question and answer session which followed. As was noted several times during the meeting, Stanhope Council has already made a commitment to a waste management study and is considering a recycling program.

Asked if they would favour imposing fines on residents who dump waste in unauthorized areas or who do not make use of the bins which will be set aside for recycling materials, all the candidates said they supported fines.

Barb Nangle approved the idea but foresaw some difficulty in enforcement suggesting people could be hired by the municipality to supervise the landfill sites.

Elinor Harrison said she would not be against imposing fines if the problem could be policed.

Fred Gardner, while agreeing with penalties questioned the means of enforcing the rules and suggested the cost to enforce regulations may not be worthwhile if the majority of residents co-operate.

Murray Daniels noted there are laws on the books against littering, adding fines should be laid after an initial warning. He also expressed the importance of encouraging the use of biodegradable materials.

Ann Barker and Harry Davis also expressed their support for the idea.

When asked if they believed the municipality should set an example by using materials which can be recycled, all candidates agreed.

The two candidates for the Board also commented on the waste problem within the school system.

LeRoy Eager said he had no doubt the Board would follow the lead of local municipalities that undertake waste management programs.

Curtis Eastmure emphasized his concern, and suggested the schools should investigate the possibility of using recycled paper, particularly in the primary grades.

The continuing problem of fluctuating water levels was the second major concern of the meeting.

In response to a number of complaints and questions Reeve Davis pointed out that local councils have lobbied for changes in the past but to no avail.

Jurisdiction over the waterways lies with the Firefighters continue to upgrade skills

Keeping on top of emergency rescue procedures is a major part of being a member of a volunteer fire brigade, such as those serving the communities in Haliburton County.

Recently members of the Minden Fire Department participated in two important training courses, which involved a great deal of time and effort on behalf of those taking part. The first course provided the firemen with hands-on experience in extricating injured individuals from vehicles involved in accidents. The trainees used derelict vehicles to practise their skills in using powerful tools to open a crushed vehicle to provide access to an individual trapped inside.

The second course involved training in cardiopulmonary resuscitation, known as CPR. The course taught the firemen how to administer external pressure, applied in a rhythmical fashion to the chest of a victim, combined with artificial respiration, to save the life of an individual whose breathing and heart beat has stopped.

Those successfully completing the extrication course from the Minden Fire Department were Dan Arbour, Craig Crowe and Dan McKelvey.

Those who successfully completed the CPR training included Don McClenaghan, Ivan Schlosser, Dan McKelvey, Doug Ripley, Ron Venzine, Craig Crowe, Dan Arbour, Peter Allore and Joe Dollo Jr.

Dorset Acid Rain Report

The following report of precipitation events was gathered at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing station at Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada. The report covers the period October 23 - 29.

- October 23, 3 mm of rain, pH 4.1, from Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York

- October 24, 7 mm of rain, pH 4.7, from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and central Ontario.

- October 25, 7 mm of rain, pH 4.9, from Wisconsin and Michigan.

- October 26, 9 mm of mixed snow and rain, pH 4.7, from Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

- October 27, 8 mm of rain, pH 4.1, from Indiana, Ohio, western Pennsylvania, western New York, and eastern Ontario.

- October 28, 8 cm of snow, pH 4.4, from north-western Ontario, Lake Superior and Lake Huron.

- October 29, 1 cm of snow, pH 4.5, from Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Reading of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

LEADERSHIP with A HUMAN FOCUS

Canadians have a real choice in establishing the direction of this country for the future on NOVEMBER 21. The differences between the Progressive Conservative government and the others are real and profound and offer voters a choice between:

- ✦ Our vision of the future versus their focus on the past;
- ✦ The continuation of our successful plan versus their total lack of direction;
- ✦ Our view of Canada as outward looking and confident versus their fear of change and any outside influences;
- ✦ Our confidence in our competitiveness and free trade versus their commitment to tear up the FTA;
- ✦ Our plans to help Canadians adjust to new challenges versus their desire to protect Canadians from them;
- ✦ Our commitment to help Canadians generate wealth versus their goal only to redistribute what wealth already exists;
- ✦ Our efforts to make Canada a respected, contributing member of the international community versus their commitment to withdraw from it;
- ✦ Our belief in making progress through a partnership with Canadians versus their view that they can impose solutions from Ottawa.

Our way will create a stronger, more prosperous Canada in which all Canadians contribute to and benefit from that growth. Their way will result in a mediocre Canada ill equipped to deal with a rapidly changing world.

Friendly birds just outside the window

What breakfast guests could be more appealing than lively little Black-capped Chickadees flicking around your bird feeders first thing in the morning? Add to this the antics of the greedy Blue Jays and they jostle for position on the feeder and the plump Nuthatch having his breakfast from an upside down position on the suet log which, as usual, is also occupied by a Hairy or Downy Woodpecker, and you have a real home entertainment centre. All this activity can be taking place just outside your window providing you viewing enjoyment throughout the day.

Now is the time to set out your feeders and get the birds coming. There are a variety of simple feeders which can be used to attract local birds to your backyard.

Hopper type feeders or cylinder feeders are sold at several local stores and when filled with sunflower seeds will attract a variety of birds. There are also designs which are easy to construct at very low cost. A simple feeding platform can be placed on a window ledge for bread crumbs and table scraps. By cutting a 1 1/4" (3 cm) hole in a coconut that you can purchase at the grocery store, and hanging it outside your kitchen window you have created a great little feeder for Chickadees. Place a basket on its side on a post or cut the side out of a milk carton or javex bottle and hang it from your eaves. Many of these feeders the kids can have fun making.

By using a variety of smaller seeds such as millet or niger seed you can attract many smaller birds such as Sparrows, Redpolls, Gold Finches, Slate-coloured Juncos and Pine Siskins. Whole corn will be popular with the Blue Jays in your neighbourhood. Suet can be placed in a plastic mesh log and hung from tree branches to attract Hairy and Downy Woodpeckers. If you want to provide a real treat to your feathered friends, mix the suet with small seeds, bacon fat and peanut butter. Use this mixture to fill 1 1/2" (4 cm) holes drilled into a 3 - 4" (8 - 10 cm) diameter log 14 - 18" (35 - 45 cm) long and hang the log from your eaves. Mix up a good batch and store it in your refrigerator. Be prepared to fill your log regularly as it will no doubt become a favourite spot for Chickadees, Nuthatches and of course the Hairy and Downy Woodpeckers.

Remember to keep your feeders close to the house and located so they can be easily filled and observed from inside the house.

Deer hunters should keep in mind that venison fat makes excellent bird food. When butchering your deer this year, be sure to save the fat that you trim off the carcass. Store the fat in your freezer and in the winter hang or nail a few chunks to a tree in your backyard. It certainly will not be wasted.

A simple feeding program will help the birds in your neighbourhood to weather the cold winter months, and will more than repay your efforts with pleasure and satisfaction.

An update on activities

The Minden County Town Museum has had a busy and productive season from April to November and we would like to keep the public informed of our activities, which can be recorded under five major headings.

1. The Bowron Homestead, originally part of Jack Brezina's home, was moved onto museum property. Under the leadership of George Hewitt, the home was reconstructed to straighten it and replace weak logs. Cedar shingles will be placed on the roof before winter. An application has been made through New Horizons for funding to complete the restoration of the interior.

We can't thank enough the many members of our community who donated labour from half a day to some, such as Denzil Cox and our committee members who worked for more than 100 hours each to save this historic building. The presence of Bern Berry our Deputy-Reeve was also appreciated on many occasions.

Dave Phillips and Ted Piggott donated valuable squared logs without which we could not have completed the reconstruction. We are also indebted to Kernohan Construction, Minden Home-All and Prentice Berry Ltd. for the use of their trucks to move logs.

2. Artifacts. During the past year our community members (including cottagers) have loaned us more than 150 historic pictures which we have reproduced. (The discount from Stedmans was much appreciated). In addition we have had china, typewriter, pail, lamp used by Harry Hannah, station master at Gelert, cooper's tools used by John Gibbs to make barrels, pump

3. County Fair: The museum committee initiated a tea room complete with china cups which received positive comments and gave the public an opportunity to view historic pictures and artifacts. Bob Harrington, Peggy, John Hulbig, Freda were thrilled to receive three awards for their historic float. (Even if the timing gear failed on Murray Robertson's Model T Ford truck and he had to have it towed to the fairgrounds). The crowds enjoyed the vintage music on Murray's early model record changer, anyway. The Scottish Dancers were a huge success which complemented another excellent Sheep to Shawl and Country Crafts Display.

4. Funds: Our New Horizon's grant this year gave us the funds to support our "Glimpses of the Past" supplement to The Times, obtain museum signs, increase our collection of historic pictures and install a fine collection of heritage books covering our county and neighbouring areas.

5. Donations to the museum have increased, partly from those who saw others working physically and donated money instead of labour, partly in memory of loved ones (names are placed on the museum scroll - prepared by Cy Heal) and partly due to the impact of Glimpses of the Past. Memberships have increased and we hope that each family in our community (including cottagers) will take out a $2 yearly membership to make it your museum. We also appreciate the strong support from our council.

We invite interested members of the public to an open meeting being held by the museum committee and Wednesday, November 23, 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers. Guy Scott, author of the recent book "History of Kinmount" will share with us some of his information about a pioneer community important to the development of Minden. We also plan to have some historic pictures recently acquired, some artifacts and perhaps some of you have a few tales of the past. Please plan to attend.

Ontario. Congratulations! I want to thank the Gallery staff, all the volunteers and, of course, especially the Eagle Lake Women, for their efforts toward this fundraiser. We made $2600 on the quilt this year.

Last Wednesday, October 26 was the Knitters' open house at the Rails' End Gallery. We had about thirty-five knitters and friends gathered for a relaxed, enjoyable evening. It's always nice to meet and mix the Guild groups just to get acquainted and see what each is doing. We would like to see even more attendance at these gatherings.

The Christmas Sale is coming! I hope all Guild members are working on some items for this important fund raiser. The sale will run from November 25th until December 22nd. Entry forms and conditions for entry are available at the Gallery. They MUST be submitted. Also, the Guild is requesting that there be more items of $25 or less this year, as we feel they are the bigger sellers. Please contact the Gallery for information.

Also, a small group of Guild members are running a few workshops to create pinecone, willow and other miscellaneous gifts for the Christmas Sale. If you are interested in participating, contact me at 754-2181, or Wendy

Aggressive effort to solve water woes

Trent-Severn Authority under an Order in Council passed in 1905. Efforts by municipal officials to have the Order rescinded have been turned down by two government ministers, he said.

The Reeve who is chairman of the Haliburton County Water Levels Committee saw some room for optimism, however, in that a meeting has been arranged with Vince Kerrio, the Minister of Natural Resources and that efforts are being made through MP Bill Scott to meet with federal officials.

He pointed out that to solve the problem 40 dams would have to be constructed at a cost of one million dollars each.

With 60 per cent of ratepayers' taxes going to the Board of Education it was to be expected there would be questions on the rising cost of education.

Davis told the meeting that he, along with the Director of Education Stuart Baker, have met with officials of the Ministry of Education to ask for increased provincial funding but without success.

LeRoy Eager noted the recent amalgamation of three trustee associations should give us a stronger voice at Queen's Park in order to increase funding to rural areas.

Curtis Eastmure said he favoured continuing pressure on the province to both increase funding and to improve facilities and programs in this county to match those being offered in large urban areas. Still on the subject of money, the incumbent trustee was asked in light of the recent increase in remuneration to board members how many meetings trustees attend and the duration of those meetings.

Eager responded by pointing out the increase is within ministry guidelines and that with 36 to 40 meetings a year lasting an average of four to five hours each, the board has a workload that is considerably heavier than most municipal councils.

The increase, which takes effect this December, after the election, provides trustees with a remuneration of $345 per month.

On a more personal basis, Curtis Eastmure was asked to comment on a possible conflict of interest since his wife has recently been hired by the board as a full time teacher.

He replied that his decision to run was made before his wife was hired and that this is not a precedent.

He suggested his wife's work as a teacher would be beneficial in that it would provide further insight into the educational system.

Emphasizing he would declare a conflict of interest in regard to discussion of salary and transfers he said he would not sit on the negotiating committee.

Questioned as to whether he could adequately represent the municipality under these circumstances Eastmure pointed out he would still be able to serve the township by working on other committees.

As the meeting began to wind down after two hours, the candidates were asked if they would consider giving more access to seasonal residents by holding council meetings on Mondays or Fridays rather than Wednesday morning.

Reeve Davis replied that it would be necessary to look at the profile of the new council then decide adding it is difficult to please everyone.

Murray Daniels said he would hesitate to change the day of the meeting unless he had some assurance cottagers would attend. If they do attend he said he would agree to a change.

Fred Gardner approved either a Monday or Friday meeting to improve access to residents.

Ann Barker also agreed but noted that in the past very few seasonal residents attend meetings during the summer.

Eleanor Harrison said she would agree to meetings on any day of the week with the exception of weekends.

Barb Nangle replied she would support a change but would prefer to have some assurance that cottagers would attend.

As the meeting ended, Gerald Bain, the moderator for the evening, asked the gathering to show their appreciation to the three retiring members of council, Deputy-Reeve Elvin Johnson, and councillors Jim Harrison and Jock Mavor.

The three men received a standing ovation.

Over one hundred people turned out at the Stanhope Firefighters' Hall for the candidates' debate. All the candidates were represented including Ann Barker who was uncontested as Deputy Reeve and Harry Davis who was uncontested for Reeve.

The Candidates - Stanhope

LeRoy A. Eager
School Board
Trustee

Age 60 - 28 years resident of Stanhope Township, 23 years owner/operator of Welch's Country Market, Maple Lake, 11 years Incumbent School Trustee, Stanhope Township, School Bus Driver for LaRue Bus Lines, Travelways School Transit and Northernways - a total of seventeen years.

My interest in education was spawned by my contact and interest in young people. During my 11 years as Trustee, I have served on most of the Standing Committees and many Ad Hoc Committees of the Board. As the new Board is installed, the most pressing issue will be accommodation in the Haliburton and Minden Schools. In Haliburton, Victoria Street School is a fine old building, however, it has many materials that are unacceptable by today's standards. Renovations would be very costly, with no increase in space so it would be against my better judgement to renovate.

In Minden, the enrolment forecast calls for nine portables by 1992, which is completely unacceptable. Portable classrooms are very expensive, with no grants available, hideous in appearance and take a lot of space from the play area. The present board has made very acceptable arrangements for additional class space in both schools and as experience has proven, it will probably take the next term to get funds approved for any building. It is my opinion that the board can provide suitable accommodation for the Primary Classes with additions to the present schools at less cost.

Another issue for the next Board will be, as before, the closing of our small schools. I would regret closing any school as long as there is reason to keep it open. The schools in these communities provide not only education for the young but a gathering place for the community and should be kept open as long as it is financially feasible.

Many other issues will come before the Haliburton County Board of Education in the next three years. As a candidate in the 1988 Election, I would hope that the voters of Stanhope Township would make me a part of it.

Curtis Eastmure
School Board
Trustee

I am very pleased to be able to present myself to you, the readers of "The Times", as a candidate for public school trustee in Stanhope Township.

Since moving to the Haliburton area in 1980 as a Resort Operator, I have worked with a number of community and business associations. For 3 years I sat on the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors. Over that time period I held the positions of both Treasurer and Vice President.

Five years ago I became involved with a group of excited business people and outdoor enthusiasts and we formed the Haliburton Highlands Nordic Trails Association. For 3 years I held the position of President. I am pleased to say that, today, through the work of that committed group of individuals we have managed to establish one of the finest cross country ski trail systems in Canada. No doubt many of you have taken advantage of this excellent recreational facility if your family are cross country skiers.

More recently I have also had the opportunity to sit on the Board of Directors of Resorts Ontario, a province-wide association that represents the concerns of over 250 resort properties throughout the province.

Currently I sit on the Bancroft/Haliburton Industrial Training Committee, and hold the position of Past President with the Nordic Trails Association.

I feel that this community involvement and experience gives me many of the skills necessary to be an effective member of the Haliburton County Board of Education.

Over the 9 years that I have been a resident and businessman in this community I have had the opportunity to discuss the future of Haliburton County and Stanhope Township with many fellow citizens. Education does not often come up in conversation unless it has to do with higher taxes or a particular problem with a son or daughter in a specific situation.

Over this past year, however, education has become a major topic of discussion to many ratepayers, particularly those who have children who are current users of the school system. Their major concern is the accommodation of the elementary students in Minden and Haliburton. In both cases the elementary schools are seriously overcrowded even with the temporary arrangements that have been made at Victoria Street and Archie Stouffer. Some answers have to be found and portable classrooms are not the solution.

I have decided to run for school trustee because I feel it's time I got involved with an aspect of the community that directly relates to my position as a parent of school-aged children. Over the past year I have seen the problems related to the increase in the number of students entering the school system in Haliburton County. My daughter started kindergarten with one teacher last fall and within a month was getting to know a new teacher because her initial class was far too large. Though the School Board has managed to make arrangements for the extra classes in other locations they are temporary solutions at best. Over the next 3 years the problem of accommodation of our increasing school population must be addressed in the most economical fashion that keeps the education of our children as our number one concern.

The money for these expansions will have to come from the province. It means that the new board will have to make some strong representations of our needs to the Ministry of Education and will have to be prepared to fight for what we feel is needed for our children.

As a parent, a question I would be asking any candidate for the Board, is how they plan to ensure the same level and quality of education in Haliburton County as the students in the metropolitan areas of this province receive. Students in the larger centres have a much wider variety of educational experiences that are available at their door. The museums, science centres, historical sites, seats of government are in many cases within walking distance of the schools or at most a short bus ride away. The students in the larger school board areas have the opportunities of many specialty programs that are offered. Is French Immersion or Junior Kindergarten an unreal expectation for this area? Perhaps it is, but has our Board taken a hard look at the possibilities? I personally don't think they have.

I feel that my involvement with the community over the past 9 years gives me a very good understanding of the issues that are involved. Being a parent with two children who will be progressing through the school system over the next 13 years gives me the further drive to see the job done properly. Through direct discussions with the parents and residents of this township, I plan to effectively represent our concerns at the School Board level over the next 3 years.

I look forward to your support in the Municipal Election on November 14. Together we can provide for the better education of our young residents through a School Board that is more in touch with the feelings of this community.

HOMETOWN CHRISTMAS '88

a great place ...
to live,
to grow,
to shop

With the Christmas season just around the corner, you are no doubt preparing a shopping list. This year, visit local shops and stores first. Local businesses are an important part of your community. They provide services year 'round, are there when you need them and have a wide selection of merchandise. Moreover, local businesses provide employment opportunities, contribute to the welfare of the community and take an active interest in the growth and future of your hometown.

SHOP YOUR HOMETOWN FIRST

This Week On T.V.

The listings are supplied by the T.V. stations. While every effort is made to ensure their accuracy, last minute changes may be made by the stations.

"DON'T SPRING A LEAK"

By the end of 1990 ALL underground gasoline or oil storage tanks will have to comply with Safety Standards or be removed. This affects all unprotected tanks installed before 1974.

Avoid any cleanup costs caused by a leak, with a possible fine by having your tanks updated.

Win and tie in season openers

The Minden Bantams opened their hockey season with a win and a tie last week as they took on Haliburton and matched Sunderland.

In a very close back-and-forth game, Minden edged Haliburton 6 - 5 in an exhibition game in Haliburton. A total of only 12 minutes in penalties were handed out in the fast-paced game.

Rob Ackerblade opened the scoring, unassisted, for Minden less than seven minutes into the first period. He went on to score two more unassisted goals to earn a hat-trick.

Jason Billings did the bulk of the scoring for the Haliburton squad, matching Ackerblade goal for goal. Other goal scorers for Haliburton were Chris Greenfield and Peter Van-Teevwen. Greenfield and Mike Billings each picked up one assist while Reid Clestone assisted on two of the Haliburton goals.

Minden's Jaime Dollo pumped in two goals for the game winners with an assist from Mike Muli. Hunter Obee scored once, assisted by Jason Scarlet.

2 - 2 tie

The Bantams match-up with Sunderland was a little more chippy as the teams struggled to break the 2 - 2 tie that existed from the midway point of the second period. The extra goal was elusive, though, leaving the teams to settle for a tie in the first regular game of the season.

Minden's Rob Ackerblade was responsible for both of Minden's goals, while Darren Sawyer picked up an assist.

Aaron Hie manned the Minden net for both of these games.

Two share top spot

With two weeks gone in the Men's Recreational Hockey League, The Rockcliffe and Halls Insurance are the only two teams without a loss. And by tonight, there will be just one team with a perfect record.

The Rockcliffe dumped The Times 13 - 4 in the first game of the night last Monday to earn their second win of the season. Halls matched that win with their own by defeating Home Hardware 11 - 7.

Vasey Real Estate picked up their first win with a narrow 5 - 3 victory over Hartwick Construction.

Tonight's action will see Halls challenge the Rockcliffe for top spot in the league at 8:30. Hartwick and The Times play at 7 p.m. and Vasey and Home will face off at 10 p.m.

Rockcliffe 13, Times 4

The Rockcliffe's Barry Boice was unstoppable last Monday night, picking up three goals and one assist in the first period alone. He went on to score three more times in this lopsided win over The Times.

Trailing by four goals in the second period, Ben Manuge finally put The Times on the scoreboard.

Manuge scored two in this game, while Paul Perreault scored two of his own.

Scott Hamilton and Dean Hewitt each added two goals to Rockcliffe's win, while Jim Crawford and Norman Boice scored one each.

Vasey 5, Hartwick 3

In the only close contest of the night, Vasey outgunned Hartwick five goals to three with Ivan Ingram causing most of the damage.

Ingram scored four goals for Vasey and Dennis McKee added the fifth.

Hall's scoring power well distributed

(from page 24)

Sid MacKeigan scored two of the goals for Hartwick while Ted Vasey added the third.

Halls 11, Home 7

Last week we said that if anyone is going to defeat Halls, they're going to have to put a lid on Dave Hartwick's scoring. It looks as though a few more names will have to be added to that list.

In the final game last Monday, Home did manage to limit Hartwick's goals to one. However, Brian Shaw pumped in four goals while Larry Sawyer added another three for Halls. With singles from Bart Hilhorst, Colin Wilson and Rick Salmon, Halls scored 11 times to Home's seven.

Lawrence Lougheed scored three of Home's goals, earning his second hat-trick of the season. Dave Rogers scored two times while Barry Ward and Mark Switalski added one each.

Outstanding contribution will be recognized

In honour of a man who contributed a great deal of his time, efforts and enthusiasm to the betterment of minor hockey in Minden, the Minden Men's Recreational Hockey League has donated the "Garth Gammon Memorial Trophy" to the minor hockey association.

The new trophy will be awarded annually to the person who has made the most outstanding contribution to minor hockey in that year. The recipient could be a player, a coach, an official or a parent who takes the time to drive the kids to and from the games.

Anyone who goes the extra mile to promote minor hockey is eligible for this award, and it is the parents who will decide the winner. All parents of minor hockey players will receive a ballot at some point in the season and will be asked to vote on who they believe deserves the award.

On behalf of the Minden Men's Hockey League, Jim Keetch, president, and Barry Ward, secretary treasurer, presented the new trophy to Jerry Campbell, who is this year's president of the minor hockey association. Garth's wife, Peggy Gammon, was also on hand for the presentation.

Bear populations will be watched

The Ministry of Natural Resources will establish a system of bear management areas across the province to reduce harvest pressure on provincial black bear populations.

"The introduction of bear management areas will improve my ministry's ability to monitor black bear and will also eliminate competition among tourist operators within the same geographic area," Natural Resources Minister Vincent Kerrio said.

"Interest in bear hunting in Ontario continues to rise and my ministry, in co-operation with tourist operators and hunters, has identified a need for an area allocation system to protect the resource and reduce conflicts."

The ministry will meet with active bear outfitters in each district later this fall to discuss the mapping of bear management areas, taking into account the areas traditionally hunted by each outfitter. Many provincial operators already have informal agreements that define hunting areas, although extreme competition for bears has caused this system to break down.

Bear outfitters who are assigned areas will receive the exclusive right to provide guiding and baiting services to bear hunters within those areas. (more on page 31)

Kawartha's best

The HHSS Junior football club has won the Kawartha West title. They rushed to an easy 32-0 win over LCVI October 28 to capture the trophy. The club now advances to the Kawartha finals slated for Nov. 8 in Peterborough. The juniors, obviously pleased with their victory, posed for this photo following their win. The senior's season ended following their 21-1 loss Friday, also against LCVI. The seniors closed the season with a 5-2 win/loss record.

The next Concert Series performance takes place on Monday, November 7 at 8 p.m. at the Secondary School. Quintessence is a string ensemble of five performers including: Bill Bridges, one of Canada's foremost recording artists and freelance guitarists, Norman Hathaway, violinist and concert master of the Te Deum Orchestra of Hamilton, Jose Shapero, musician trained in both piano and cello who is the principal cellist of the Oakville Symphonic, Lenny Solomon, who has a reputation as one of Canada's finest jazz violinists, and Claudio Zena, a violinist who is principal conductor of the Hart House Chamber Winds.

Individual concert tickets are now $12 for adults, $10 for seniors, and $6 for students. It's a bargain! Don't miss an enjoyable evening!

On Monday night,

November 14th at 8 p.m. there will be a meeting of all those who participated in the Studio Tour, at Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden. According to Marion Hill, the chairperson, any other interested parties are welcome to attend.

As a very special treat, on Wednesday, December 7th, the HHGFA Choral Society is presenting Songs For A December Evening. Tickets are now available at a mere $5 each. The performance takes place at 8 p.m., at HHSS. Guest artist will be Haliburton's own Doug Cutler. Tickets may be purchased at both Agnes Jamieson and Rails'

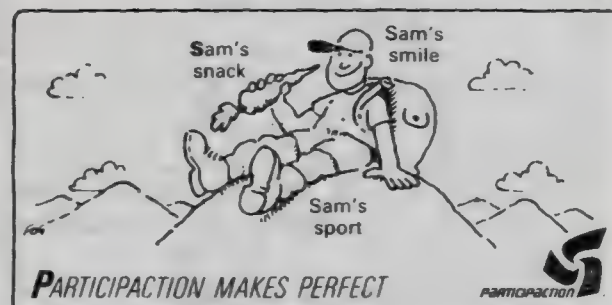

End Galleries or from any choir member. This is an excellent group. Put it on your calendar.

As an additional, important fund-raiser, the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts is now seeking people who are interested in tax deductible personal/family sponsorships at $200.00, or corporate sponsorships, at $500.00. If you are interested in this type of support for the Guild please contact Barb Peel at 457-2752, or leave your name and phone number at the Gallery.

And, finally, in case you haven't noticed, the Rails' End Gallery is now operating on winter hours. We are open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Come on in and see the beautiful forest in the Highland Room.

Province increases funds for Arthritis Society

by John Eakins, M.P.P.

This week I would like to report on the province's funding increase to the Ontario division of the Arthritis Society, a new subsidy program to assist small municipalities to upgrade their intercity bus terminals, and a remainder of the Farmers' Helpline, a service of the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food. The provincial government will contribute $2,811,300 to the Arthritis Society for the kick-off of this year's fundraising campaign. This funding increase for 1988-89 will allow the Society to expand its very successful Home Services Program.

This community-based service receives referrals from home care programs, hospital outpatient clinics and directly from physicians. The in-home program, which served over 6,000 patients in the past year, aims to reduce hospitalization by preventing patient disability through physiotherapy, occupational therapy and counselling services given by health care workers specialized in the treatment of this disease.

Another initiative is the establishment of a subsidy program to help small municipalities to upgrade their intercity passenger terminals. This program encompasses a variety of improvements to existing bus passenger facilities such as waiting rooms, ticket sales and travel information availability.

Under this program, grants of up to 75 per cent of renovation costs are available to qualifying municipalities to improve their existing intercity passenger terminals.

Harvest time is often critical time for many farmers. Financial pressures can take their toll not only on the farmer's business, but on his or her personal life.

U.C. ladies gather in Ingoldsby

With the theme "The River of Life", Region 6 Rally was held on October 26, 1988 at Ingoldsby United Church. During Registration, Miss Glenna Beckham provided quiet organ music. Mrs. Joan Rivard with Mrs. Norma Barron of Minden, at the organ, led an enjoyable hymn sing. The Chairperson, Mrs. Pat Burke welcomed everyone and began the day with prayer. The hymn, "Welcome Happy Morning" was sung after which Rev. Jim Crighton brought greetings on behalf of the Ingoldsby congregation.

Mrs. Margaret Pickens and Miss Vaneita Pickens of Gooderham led in the Devotion. Psalms 100 was read followed by prayer. The topic based on Ephesians 5:20 dealt with Thanksgiving and a meditation on the poem, "Did I Forget to Thank the Lord". A poem "Our Thanks to Thee" concluded the worship. The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. Burke. Mrs. Shirley Burke of Lochlin announced that they would like to host the 1989 Rally. The Secretary's report of the 1987 Rally was accepted as read with a minor correction. Over fifty ladies responded (more on page 34)

Rattler is deadly and beautiful

by Marion Strebig
Federation of Ontario
Naturalists

Sinuous as silk it lay looped across the rock. Its dark mottling blended so well with the lichen-covered limestone and leaf mould that I had to force myself to really search before I found it. As part of the activity at the Federation of Ontario Naturalists' Adult Camp on the Bruce, we were looking for snakes. Before the day was over we would see six species of snakes, but this first snake of the day was the one we would remember - a Massasauga rattlesnake.

Not long ago I would have recoiled from the snake, but under the tutelage of Kathy Parker, who along with her husband, Martin Parker, runs the FON Membership Trips Program, I had overcome my aversion and even enjoyed holding a garter snake, its body cool, smooth and muscular in my hands. Though I cannot say I enjoyed the pungent musk it exuded when disturbed.

This time I was content to admire Ontario's only venomous snake from a respectful distance of several meters. The intricate dark patterning on the buff skin was perfect camouflage. It was smaller and slenderer than I had imagined; Massasauga rattlesnakes rarely exceed 3 feet.

A photographer trying for a better angle broke the precarious equilibrium. The snake raised its head, flicked its tongue, and then rattled, a buzz so delicate that it might have been an insect. For an instant it faced us and then it flickered and was gone. I breathed again.

Perhaps because snakes seem so alien to mammals like us, many people have an irrational terror of them. But in that moment before it vanished, I had felt the snake's uneasiness at these aliens in its territory, and its desire to escape. Later I discovered that this snake is mild-mannered and secretive, doing all in its power to avoid contact with human beings. A person with many years of experience on the Bruce told me that I was more likely to be hit by lightning than bitten by the Massasauga rattlesnake.

This snake is now confined to a couple of tiny pockets in Southern Ontario, and to areas along Georgian Bay and on the Bruce Peninsula. Development associated with loss of its favoured habitats, swamps and bog areas has been one factor in its decline. Also where development has brought the rattler into contact with people, the snake has fared badly.

Next year the Committee on the Status of Endangered Wildlife in Canada (COSEWIC) will consider a status report on the species which recommends that it be officially labelled as threatened in Canada. With this in mind, Bob Johnson, Curator of Amphibians and Reptiles at the Metropolitan Toronto Zoo, convened a meeting of representatives of government and non-government groups interested in the fate of this little snake.

Fears curb snake's protection

The committee conceded that the major obstacle to protection of the species was people's fear of snakes in general and poisonous snakes in particular. Michel Villeneuve, the representative from the Georgian Bay Islands National Park where the rattler is relatively abundant, has handled the problem by removing the myths that surround snakes. Visitors landing at the park are greeted by a poster of the snake. The posters are everywhere people congregate, including the washrooms. They tell people about the snake, and advise people to take simple precautions while they are there, like wearing shoes and using a flashlight at night.

The more people learn about the snake and its habits, the more tolerant they are. This was illustrated by two incidents at the park. In the first a man was bitten because he went out at night without shoes or flashlight, and stepped on a snake. Most campers blamed the man for being careless. They accepted the fact that they shared the environment with the snake. In the second incident a basking snake was killed. When Parks Canada laid a charge, one of the witnesses came all the way from Ottawa to testify. There was a conviction and a fine of $200.

The Massasauga rattler belongs to a family of snakes called Pit Vipers because of the pit, a small indentation on each side of the face between the eye and the nostril, which acts as a heat sensor. Its venom fangs are hollow and retractable, lying in a sheath against the roof of the mouth. The rattle is formed from keratin, the same substance of which horn and fingernails are made.

Another interesting fact about this snake is that the young are born alive, in late summer or early fall. Most of Ontario's 17 snake species lay eggs. When the nights turn cold, the snake will seek a hibernating den, usually alone, unlike other snakes which hibernate in group hibernaculums.

If one believed all the reports of rattlesnakes in Ontario one would never believe this snake was threatened. However, most of the reports of rattlers are really of two other much larger mottled snakes, the milk snake and the fox snake, both of which vibrate their tails when disturbed.

The committee concluded that the most effective weapon in the fight to preserve the remaining population of the Massasauga rattlesnake is public education. If you would like to learn more about snakes, send for the FON booklet Living with Snakes. Send your request together with a large stamped self-addressed envelope to me at the FON, 355 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, M3B 2W8.

Bear essentials

The program does not affect hunting by Ontario residents, unless they use the services of a tourist outfitter.

Tourist operators will be charged on annual fee for each bear management area they are assigned. Assignment of an area does not convey any land tenure or title, but merely allows the holder to exclude other operators.

In addition, bear management areas are not transferable. Any area given up by an operator will revert to the Crown.

Since most hunters use the Ontario tourist industry, bear management areas will enable the ministry to better monitor the annual bear harvest provincially and by specific areas.

Here's the perfect opportunity to get the jump on November Blues and discover your local branch of the Haliburton County Public Library because a very special program is en route to the county from the "far east" - that's Nova Scotia - and it is something else.

The Maritime Marionettes is coming to town with their production of an old favourite done in a special way - Cinderella.

We all know the story about Cinderella, the ugly step-sisters and the less-than-loveable step-mother but how often do you get a chance to see them come to life.

Puppetry is an ancient art form to say the least which is represented by many traditional styles and methods. The most sensitive is the "marionette" or "puppet-on-a-string".

Daryll Taylor and

Heather Bishop, both natives of Nova Scotia will demonstrate the art for kids of all ages. Their 50-minute production is set in Medieval times and is performed with music in a manner which will convince you totally that the characters are alive and feeling beings.

Performances are scheduled for Minden at Archie Stouffer School at 10 a.m., and at 2 p.m. across from the arena in Haliburton. That's a Tuesday, November 8.

So mark your calendar to join your friends at the Haliburton County Public Library - and enjoy yourselves, compliments of your local branch and the Ministry of Culture and Communications.

Books are just a part

There's more to your local branch of the Haliburton County Public Library than just the latest in books and magazines. We also have nearly 500 16 mm films and access to more than 10,000 more through the AV-NET computer system that we contribute to on a regular basis.

Each year, we add as many new films as we can and this year has been no exception. In addition to the new AIDS film which was purchased earlier this year, we have just received the following National Geographic Society productions which will be of interest to anyone with an interest in nature and the world around us. It would appear that this year is the year of the dinosaur and we have therefore bought Dinosaurs: Puzzles From the Past as well as Our Dynamic Earth, Earth: the Restless Planet, Australia's Animal Wonders and Living Ocean for those who prefer a more watery climate.

Animal lovers can find something to amaze them with Animals That Build, World of Pet Dogs and Mammals and Their Young. And for those who would prefer to know something about the weather rather than just talk about it, we have Weather: Come Rain, Come Shine.

While films are distributed from the County Library Headquarters, every branch has a complete listing of films in our own collection and the main catalogue for the entire OLS-Trent Service Area is readily at hand.

We even have projectors and screens for those that want to explore the world in their living room without leaving home! Check out your closest branch of the Haliburton County Public Library and see what is new ... for you!

United Church ladies gather

to the Roll Call after which all stood to repeat the U.C.W. Purpose.

Mrs. Fran Clark of Carnarvon favoured with a solo "Let There Be Peace On Earth."

Mrs. Joyce Jones, President of Lindsay Presbyterian brought greetings and referred to a hymn used at the Annual - "When We Have Reached A Crossroad". She reminded us of the Mid Week Event in Belleville November 2 and 3 and the Presbyterian Annual to be held in Cambridge St., Lindsay on March 29, 1989.

Mrs. Jean Gorrill, Recording and Corresponding Secretary, reported that she had distributed the annual reports which she would like returned to her by January 15, 1989. She also requested that the ladies submit to her, names of ladies requiring a card for any occasion.

Mrs. Florence Harrison, Treasurer, reported she had included in her report copies of forms for M. and S. donations for each treasurer. She brought regrets from Mrs. Molly Wood, Youth Convenor.

Mrs. Olive Nye, Social Issues Convenor, reported encouraging progress in plans for a home for battered women in Victoria County. U.C.W.'s could consider this as a project when deciding upon donations for this year. She also mentioned a conference on November 10, with the theme, Justice for Women. Mrs. Connie Grundy brought regrets from Mrs. Beth Waite, and mentioned that we should remember children when donating items to Crossroads. Connie told of the many projects concerning children to which the United Church contributes. She emphasized our responsibility to Stewardship of the Earth, particularly our toxic wastes in landfill sites. Mrs. Olive Rodgers distributed her reports and checked on the papers to which reports of this Rally should be sent.

Mrs. Isabel Wessell, Archives, gave suggestions for retaining records and suggested that captions should accompany photos rather than printing on the back of them. Regrets were expressed from Miss Vina Neal.

Mrs. Mary Winterbottom introduced some worthwhile books for Devotion and Programme planning. Mrs. Joyce Junkin, Programme, reminded us that the Skit book is available, and to note list of ideas contained in her report.

Mrs. Phyllis Tamlin, A.D.A. quoted some frightening statistics regarding the abuse of alcohol - 66% of traffic accidents are attributed to alcohol. She invited all to pick up the free informative pamphlets.

Grace was sung before we sat down to a delicious hot lunch served by the Ingoldsby ladies. Sufficient time was available to visit the book display.

After lunch the ladies from Minden led us again in some enjoyable singing. Mrs. Mary Parozanin of Maple Lake led in prayer and read a poem, "Too Much". This was followed by singing "Mine Eyes Have Seen The Glory". In Memoriam, led by Mrs. Doreen Bullied of Carnarvon, consisted of a poem, "Memories", silent prayer and in conclusion Doreen led in prayer.

The speaker, Mrs. Nada Vaughan was introduced by Mrs. Pat Burke. Mrs. Vaughan spoke on the topic This River of Life, which she illustrated with many Biblical references such as the story of the woman of Samaria at Jacob's well. Water is a real necessity in our human lives, but we are invited to trust Jesus who is the Living Water which leads to Everlasting Life. She closed her impressive message with prayer. Mrs. Mildred Hill of Lochlin, in a few well chosen words thanked Mrs. Vaughan and presented her with a gift. Mrs. Nedean Bull of Haliburton expressed her appreciation to all who helped to make this day special. In her closing comments Mrs. Burke, Chairperson, added her thanks to all who contributed in any way, especially her capable and faithful secretary, Mrs. Lola Hicks.

The hymn, Fill My Cup Lord, followed by the Benediction, concluded another worthwhile day.

Lots of scary Hallowe'en visitors

So pleased were we to be visited by many young people on the evening of Hallowe'en. Their costumes, their painted little faces, and their bewitching ways certainly kept us under the spell. Henry Howe's laughing clown toy kept many of the wee ones spellbound too. We shall see you all next year. Thank you for visiting us.

At time of writing we understand Lillian has been taken by ambulance to Minden hospital, while George is being taken to Toronto hospital. Lillian and George had been home just a short while. Our sincere get well wishes go with them.

Also on the sick list are Dolly Ashford, Janet Perry, Florence Lindsay and Jean Marsh. We do hope you will all soon be fine.

From our October Club Meeting it was decided we should have our fall monthly supper at the Legion in Haliburton.

It was a very tasty meal consisting of roast beef, vegetables, gravy, a tasty dessert, followed by a lovely decorated anniversary cake. This cake was graciously introduced by Holly Cooper to Mark and Carrie Vasey on the occasion of their 55th Wedding Day. In response Mark thanked everyone and also pointed out that they recently became shareholders in a thoroughbred racing horse which will bear the name, Staunworth Court (Good luck, folks, we shall watch the races very closely for sentimental reasons).

To finish off our evening Len Trodd expressed our thanks to the Legion ladies for the lovely appetizing and tastily prepared meal;

to Holly on her well-organized evening after her serious illness; and to Jean Marsh for her co-operation with the Legion and making the evening such a success. We thank you, Haliburton Ladies of the Legion.

Our Lounge has been chosen to display the very talented art done by our Canadian artist, David Risk. His great love of nature in its wild habitat is remarkably expressed in his paintings. The beauty of our Highlands has provided David with inspiration to continue in his artwork as he tries to help us appreciate nature and its Creator.

Our deepest sympathy reaches out to Shirley Brandon and family on the death of her husband and their father, Charles Brandon. Mr. Brandon entertained us here at Staunworth with his pleasant personality and his music on our piano. He shall be missed by all of us.

Many thanks goes out to Mel and Doris Foster for showing us the video entitled E.T. We surely did enjoy it. It had its way of bringing out the child in all of us who were blessed with an imagination.

Did you know that a scientist crossbred a carrier pigeon with a woodpecker? Now he has a bird that not only carries messages but knocks on the door.

Congratulations to Emily Poole on the very pretty wedding of her grandson, Duane Pratt to Tracey Henderson. They looked very sharp, as did their ladies and gents in attendance.

Wheel Horse Power... It's Worth More!

How can you tell a tough tractor?

Look between the wheels. The front axle is the key to a smooth ride and long life. That's why every Wheel Horse tractor, right down to our smallest tractor, has a cast-iron front axle. It absorbs the bumps on any terrain, yet keeps its shape.

On many small tractors, you'll find the axle is stamped out of steel, often as part of the frame. When you consider the amount of weight it supports and the ground it works on, you'll understand the importance of a Wheel Horse front axle. It's a difference you'll measure in years.

Hello Readers: Sorry I missed last week, but I was not feeling well.

The tea party at Hyland Crest on Thursday was put on by the Haliburton Catholic Church. Mr. Norman Clement played the piano and was enjoyed very much by everyone. Thank you so much for a nice afternoon.

Anna Gordon and Jean Hewitt came Monday and helped quilt. We appreciate the help as bazaar time is coming close again.

Monday afternoon and evening was a lively time for young and old. There was the usual turn out of about 200 trick or treaters.

Winnie Barnum returned from a two week trip to the west coast and reports a real nice time. The weather was lovely and she claims a trip out there is really worth while.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Brohm and children of Lindsay called on me on Sunday afternoon which was a pleasant surprise.

Sorry to report Jean Taylor is on the sick list, but hope she will be better soon.

Glad to hear Nancy Carefoot is coming along well after her second surgery. We wish her a speedy recovery so she can be home before too long.

Some of our ladies take advantage of the nice weather and walk downtown and back. They claim it makes them feel younger.

Mr. Curtis Eastmure of Maple Sands Resort showed slides of Nigeria in the auditorium. They were very good and informative. Everyone enjoyed them. Thank you.

CARD OF THANKS

A sincere thank you to the staff of Hyland Crest, Dr. Harry Good and the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home for their kindness and consideration at the time of my Mother's passing.

John O'Toole & Family

The First Minden Scouts, Cubs and Beavers would sincerely like to thank General Lee's (formerly Dixie Lee) and Kawartha Dairy for their generous donations again this year for our "Apple Day" lunch. It was great! Thanks!

The Knights of the Road are now wearing Hydro hard hats. A big thank you from Roy and Annie Kelly and wee Margaret to the crew who came to our assistance on Highway 35 on Tuesday. You are a credit, not only to Minden, but to Canada.

I would like to thank all my neighbours and friends for their lovely flowers, gifts, cards, visits and good wishes during my stay in Minden hospital. A special thanks to Dr. Richer and Dr. Dawson, also all the nurses and staff of the hospital for their special care and concern.

Muriel Harrington

AT REST

HOGG

Harold Gordon

- at Kingston on Tuesday, November 1, 1988 in his 66th year, husband of the late Irene Hogg, dear brother of Les of Minden, and Lorna of Lindsay, dear nephew of Rita McNeil, fondly remembered by his nieces and nephews. Rested at the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, Minden. Funeral Service was held in the chapel on Friday, November 4 at 1:30 p.m. Interment Minden Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

SEARS: George Milton - In loving memory of a dear father, grandfather and great-grandfather, who passed away November 4th, 1987.

He left us quietly
His thoughts unknown,
But left us a memory
We are proud to own.
So treasure him Lord,
In your garden of rest
For when on earth
He was one of the best.

Sadly missed by daughter
Carolynn and family.

REMINDER

We will be holding our Remembrance Day Parade on Sunday, November 13th. Comrade Bob Clayton will be the Parade Marshal. We form up at the Municipal Offices at 2:30 p.m. and march to the Cairn. The service will start at the Cairn at 3:00 p.m. On completion, we march back to the Municipal Offices, and break off. Then a light buffet is offered back at the Branch. Other Branches will be parading with us on the 13th. (On the 11th, students of Archie Stouffer Elementary School will conduct a service at the Cairn, with their own Bugler. Some members of Minden Legion will participate.)
